

12-WEEK SEASON DESIGN SNAPSHOT

FIRE FURNACE FORGE

Build containers before outside demands fill the space

Choice

A season becomes useful when aim becomes structure. Name what matters, give it space, and make the proof visible.
This worksheet turns intention into containers, roles, refusals, and weekly action.

Season Frame

Season name: _____

Start: _____ End: _____

Core question: What is this in service to?

Aim

My aim for this season is:

Primary Focus

This season is about building containers around what matters before outside demands fill the space.

One sentence focus for this exact season

Top 4 Season Containers

1 Rest

What I am protecting:

Main rhythm:

Visible proof: _____

2 Restoration

What builds my capacity:

Main rhythm:

Visible proof: _____

3 Relief

Pressure without distraction:

Main rhythm:

Visible proof: _____

4 Responsibility

Roles needing structure:

Main rhythm:

Visible proof: _____

Primary Roles for This Season

ROLE	CURRENT CONDITION	12-WEEK INTENTION	WEEKLY ACTION
1. _____	_____	_____	_____
2. _____	_____	_____	_____
3. _____	_____	_____	_____

Boundaries for the Season

Stop carrying: _____

Delay: _____

Refuse: _____

Protect: _____

End of Season Success Statement

At the end of this season, I will know I advanced because: _____

Action Steps Summary

1. Name the aim. 2. Build the containers. 3. Assign roles.
4. Refuse leaks. 5. Review visible proof every week.