

SB17 | STAND YOUR GROUND

Handle conflict without losing respect

Keep avoiding hard conversations and let problems grow, or face them early and take control.

One path leads to stress, resentment, and lost respect.
The other builds strength, clarity, and trust.

K

S | Specify the issue

Name exactly what happened. Stick to facts, not opinions.

What happened?

What pattern keeps repeating?

E | Express the need

Say what needs to change moving forward.

What change are you asking for?

Best "When X, I feel Y, I need Z" version:

K | Keep the boundary

Restate your point if needed. Stay calm. Do not escalate.

If they deflect or attack, what line will you repeat?

What does a win look like, even if uncomfortable?

P | Personal impact

State how it affected you. Keep it simple and honest.

How did it affect your work, peace, or respect?

How do you want to say it in one clear sentence?

A | Allow response

Let the other person speak. Listen without interrupting.

What might they say back?

What will you stay focused on while listening?

Reflection:

What did you do well, and what will you tighten next time?
