

SB20 | LEARN FROM THE BURNS

Failure becomes useful when you stop protecting your pride and start studying the lesson.

CHOICE

Keep treating failure like proof you are limited, or study the burn, adjust the process, and return sharper. One path protects ego. The other builds growth.

REFINE

R REVIEW THE FAILURE

Write the cold facts only. What actually happened?

E EXPOSE THE WEAKNESS

What part of you or your system broke down?

F FIND THE LESSON

What is this setback trying to teach you?

I INSTALL A BETTER SYSTEM

What new structure or habit will you build?

N NAVIGATE THE NEXT ATTEMPT

How will you approach the next rep differently?

E EVOLVE THROUGH REPETITION

What lesson must become a long term practice?

POST MORTEM REFLECTION

How has one past failure secretly shaped the way you act today?

1. FACE IT

Study the failure honestly instead of avoiding it.

2. FIX IT

Build one clear adjustment from the lesson.

3. FORGE FORWARD

Return to action sharper and more prepared.
